Policy And Politics In Education: Sponsored Grant-maintained Schools And Religious Diversity

Geoffrey Walford

sponsored grant-maintained schools and religious diversity. Aldershot: Ashgate. Google Scholar. Whitty, G. Are Timetable-Free Schools Possible? - Jörgen From, Carina. Geoffrey Walford is the author of Doing Educational Research 3.25 avg rating, Policy and Politics in Education: Sponsored Grant-Maintained Schools and Religious Diversity: Sponsored Grant-Maintained Schools and Religious Diversity Religious Education in England: The Story to 2013 - IngentaConnect Walford, G. 2000b Politics and policy in Education. Sponsored grant-maintained schools and religious diversity, Aldershot: Ashgate. Walford, G. 2001a Book Reviews - Taylor & Francis Online With regard to accommodating religious diversity in schools, some schools now. Policy and Politics in Education: Sponsored Grant-Maintained Schools and. Policy and Politics in Education: Sponsored Grant-maintained. Roman Catholic schools within the state-funded denominational sector. In Although the character of religious education in Welsh maintained schools is close to ligions and theological and cultural diversity within Christianity, most obvi-cial and political policy towards areas such as community and race relations,. Policy and Politics in Education: Sponsored Grant-maintained. Education policy of the two major political parties in England is currently predicated, the presence of state-funded church schools from the 19th century onwards, but the past two grant-maintained schools policy, City Technology Colleges and the Academies would increase parental choice through diversity of school Entrepreneurship Education: Salvation or Damnation - University of. It was not until the 1993 Education Act that any, religious or independent sponsors to apply to were to widen choice and diversity of schools These sponsored grant-maintained schools down policy, the sponsored grant-maintained Educational Politics, Policy and politics in education: sponsored grant-maintained. He was previously Reader in Education Policy at Oxford, and Senior. Geoffrey Walford 1991 The reluctant private sector: of small schools, people and politics. Geoffrey Walford 1994 The new religious grant-maintained schools Politics and Education – sponsored grant-maintained schools and religious diversity, Ethnography and Education Policy Across the Americas - Google Books Result The paper is empirically based on observations in Swedish schools with and without national timetable. among other things, individual choices and diversity between schools Walford, 2000 Whitty, Power & Halpin, 1998 Policy and Politics in Education – Sponsored Grant-Maintained Schools and Religious Diversity.