Restoring Dignity: Responding To Child Abuse In Canadian Institutions

Law Commission of Canada

Moving Forward with Dignity - The Report of the Law Commission of Canada on Sexual Assault and Medical Abuses of Children in Institutions. The report had a profound impact on Canadian law and policy, leading to the creation of the Canadian Child Abuse Prevention and Control Act in 2000. This Act mandated the establishment of Child Abuse Prevention and Control Boards in all provinces and territories, with the responsibility of ensuring the safety and well-being of children in institutions.

Institutional Child Abuse - Restoring Dignity: Responding to Child Abuse in Canadian Institutions is a comprehensive report published by the Law Commission of Canada in 1997. The report recommended the establishment of independent investigations into cases of child abuse in institutions, the creation of compensation schemes for victims, and the implementation of training programs for institutional staff.

Lawyers Title: 5th national summit on institutional liability for sexual assault & abuse. Fifth national summit on institutional liability for sexual assault & abuse. Author: Law Commission of Canada. Publisher: Minister of Public Safety and Emergency Preparedness. Publication Date: 2012. The report highlighted the need for legal reforms to address the issue of institutional child abuse and advocated for the adoption of comprehensive measures to prevent and address such abuses.

Lawyers Title: Restoring Dignity: Responding to Child Abuse in Canadian Institutions is an important contribution to the resolution of institutional child abuse in Canada. The report has been adopted by provinces and territories, and has led to significant legal reforms and policy changes.